

Generating Governance Gain

Best Practices for Building a High Performance Board

Introduction

Hospital and health system governing boards do not become excellent by chance. They build performance excellence by purposefully practicing leadership “habits” that function synergistically and consistently to ensure high performance governing effectiveness.

Best Practices for Building a High Performance Board is the result of over two decades of governWell™ work with hospital and health system governing boards to improve their governance effectiveness. It includes 157 qualities that, if practiced consistently, will help to ensure the board performs its critical leadership accountabilities with a high level of accountability, trust and expertise.

The 157 qualities are outlined in this document in eight areas:

- Fiduciary fitness
- Governance culture
- Strategic leadership
- Knowledge growth
- CEO success
- Alignment of system and physician interests
- Performance accountability
- Community connections .

Yes/no checkboxes appear next to each governance quality. Board members, executives and medical staff leaders can determine whether the board possesses the qualities or exhibits the practices, helping to identify leading areas for potential “governance gain.”

| 2. Uses governance transparency to build employee and public trust in leadership | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Action Agendas

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. The board meeting's primary focus is on discussion and decisions regarding strategy in the areas most critical to success
2. The majority of agenda time is devoted to strategic-level discussion and decision-making (what's coming vs. what's happened)
3. Agendas reflect strategic issues and priorities, and focus on specific outcomes the board seeks to achieve at the meeting

Our Board

Yes      No

- |                          |                          |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Macroleadership

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. The board's responsibility is to be strategic thinkers and strategic leaders rather than strategic planners
2. Focus of time on outcomes, not processes
3. Board members understand the evolving health care environment and community needs
4. A flexible, responsive strategic planning process ensures the ability to shift priorities as circumstances change

- |                          |                          |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Energy on the Emergent

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. Focuses on trends and strategic priorities, not operational details
2. Focuses on future-oriented strategic thinking about challenges and issues
3. Engages in timely board discussions about major change, and its implications
4. Creates time on board agendas for meaningful discussion of the most significant emerging issues affecting the organization
5. Considers various futures that may develop, and understands that there are no longer any "straight lines to the future." Scenarios tell where the organization might be, and what actions it might take
6. Judges itself on strategic, not tactical success

Yes      No

- |                          |                          |
|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Effectiveness Through Efficiency

Our Board

Characteristics of a high performance board...

|   | Yes               | No                |
|---|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Places a premium on board chair leadership, organization and meeting management style                            | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2. The board chair is well-skilled in the dynamics of effective meeting management and leadership                   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3. Trustees' time is respected and used efficiently; trustee involvement and participation are enhanced as a result | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 4. Evaluates the success of every board meeting   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Rapid Cognition and Pattern

Characteristics of a high performance board...

|  | Yes               | No                |
|--|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Has an effective early warning system that detects issues before they become problematic  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2. Bores below the surface of issues and challenges, and ensures board-wide understanding before taking actions  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3. Has a governance style that enables a rapid chain of thinking that capitalizes on every trustee's experience and skills   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 4. Expects new insights and new ideas to emerge at every board meeting   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 5. Uses a dashboard or balanced scorecard to measure progress towards strategic initiatives that enables the board to focus on the connection between now and the future | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 6. Governs through "strategic gap analysis" that highlights the most important areas requiring board attention   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 7. Relies on evidence, not anecdote and "best guesses" when making decisions   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Strategic Scorekeeping

Characteristics of a high performance board...

|  | Yes               | No                |
|--|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Regularly monitors progress toward the achievement of strategic objectives, using board-approved key performance indicators, and makes timely modifications to direction when necessary | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 2. Timely corrective actions are taken if/when objectives are not being met  | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| 3. Annually reviews the strengths and weaknesses of major service lines and programs, and their role and value in mission and vision fulfillment   | <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Strategic Surveillance

Characteristics of a high performance board...

| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Real Voice for Physicians

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. Dedicates adequate time to listening to and understanding physicians' needs
2. Provides "heads-up" advance information to the medical staff on critical issues and decisions
3. Provide a forum for physicians to encourage their input into important decisions well before the decisions are made
4. Controls the "rumor mill" with early, open and honest communication
5. Involves physicians in meaningful ways in securing recommendations about planning and budgeting
6. Ensures strong physician leadership on the board, in committees and task forces
7. Routinely solicits physicians' viewpoints, advice and counsel
8. Invites recommendations from the medical staff for ways to improve the practice environment
9. Plays a strong role, with the medical staff, in setting agenda discussions of quality that are designed to result in greater overall organizational performance and higher clinical quality performance

Yes      No

|                          |                          |

| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Performance Accountability

Continuous Governance Gain

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. An annual board self-assessment is a core governance accountability
2. Assesses leadership strengths and weaknesses and identifies “governance gaps”
3. Sets performance and effectiveness goals for the board, committees, and individual trustees
4. A governance development process is in place that identifies governance issues, determines educational needs, and manages the governance self-assessment process
5. Develops and implements an annual governance improvement plan designed to close “governance gaps”
6. Gauges governance effectiveness in large part on the organization’s strategic progress and performance
7. Conducts an annual personal and peer governance review
8. The peer review process helps board members improve their performance, and achieve higher levels of governance excellence

Our Board

Yes                      No

- |                          |                          |

| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| <input type="checkbox"/> | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Succession, Not Recruitment

Characteristics of a high performance board...

1. Has governance succession plans, not trustee recruitment plans, that define the ideal trustees for the board
2. The trustee succession plan looks forward at least five years
3. Has clearly defined criteria for identifying, screening, interviewing, evaluating and recruiting new trustees
4. Matches present governance skills against current and emerging trends, challenges and issues when undertaking governance succession planning
5. Has a trustee expertise “portfolio” that outlines the experience, expertise and personal characteristics required of trustees
